Arabian Mandi

KNOW OUR SPECIALITY DISHES

Mandi is a traditional dish made from rice, meat (such as mutton, fish, or chicken), and a blend of spices known as hawaij. What sets Mandi apart from other meat dishes is its unique cooking technique, where the meat is slow-cooked until tender, and the rice is infused with the flavorful spiced stock from the meat. At Arabian Mandi, the dish is served with a choice of meat, allowing customers to select their preferred option for a personalized dining experience.

Kabsa is a traditional, flavorful dish that originates from Saudi Arabia and is widely enjoyed across the Arabian Peninsula and the Middle East. Known for its mildly spicy and fragrant taste, Kabsa is often served with sides such as mayonnaise, salad, or a tomato-based sauce called daqqous. The rice in Kabsa is cooked separately, using broth from the meat, making it more seasoned than Mandi and giving it a reddish hue from the use of tomatoes and spices. We serve Kabsa with a choice of meat, allowing customers to personalize their dining experience based on their preferences.

Bukhari is a traditional rice dish from Saudi Arabia, known for its simple yet flavorful preparation. The rice is lightly spiced, often cooked with tomatoes, and served with meat like chicken or lamb. Unlike Mandi, the rice and meat are prepared separately, giving the dish a lighter, milder taste. At Arabian Mandi, Bukhari is served with a choice of meat, allowing customers to personalize their dining experience.

Zurbian is a traditional rice dish that originates from Yemen and is enjoyed across the Arabian Peninsula. It is known for its rich flavor, combining spiced rice, tender meat, and potatoes, with a fragrant blend of saffron, cumin, cardamom, and other spices. The dish is often compared to Biryani but has its own unique preparation and taste. At Arabian Mandi, Zurbian is served with tender mutton as a weekend specialty, offering a flavorful and hearty experience for those seeking a traditional taste.

Hyderabadi Dum Biryani is an ancient culinary treasure from the royal kitchens of Hyderabad, crafted through time-honored traditions. This aromatic dish layers fragrant basmati rice with marinated meat, slow-cooked in sealed pots using the traditional dum (steam) method to lock in rich flavors. Infused with a royal blend of saffron, cardamom, and cloves, each bite is a journey into the past. At Arabian Mandi, our biryani stays true to its origins, served in traditional style with cooling raita and tangy mirchi ka salaam, offering an authentic, royal dining experience.
